UNBEATEN. Don Brian (on top) earned a decision over Joe Kaliszewski to finish the campaign undefeated last Thursday night. The Dragon grappler was awarded two points for a near fall in this action. Warren won the match 28 to 17.

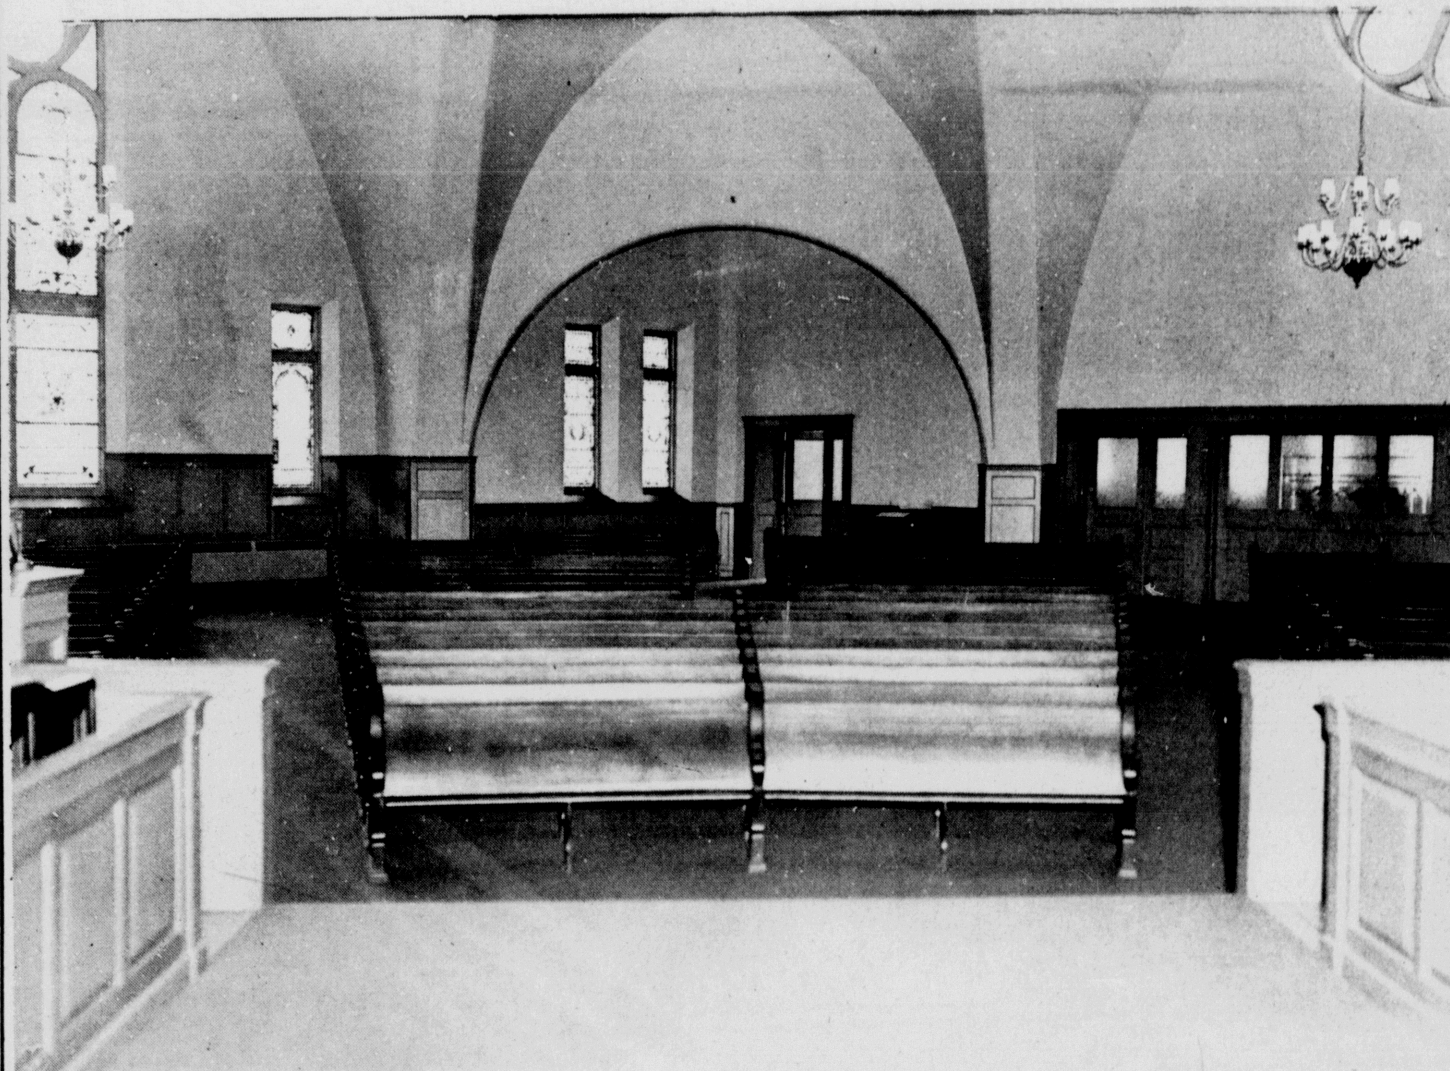

OVER THE HORSE goes Pris Ross during a girls' gymnastic exhibition staged before the Warren-Erie East wrestling match at Beaty gym last Thursday evening. The lassies went through several routines they have developed under Miss Phyllis Putnam, high school gym instructor.

FAST ACTION on the part of Harry Brooker resulted in a favorable decision for the Dragon captain over Erie's Schenell. He ended the season with a 9-1 account.

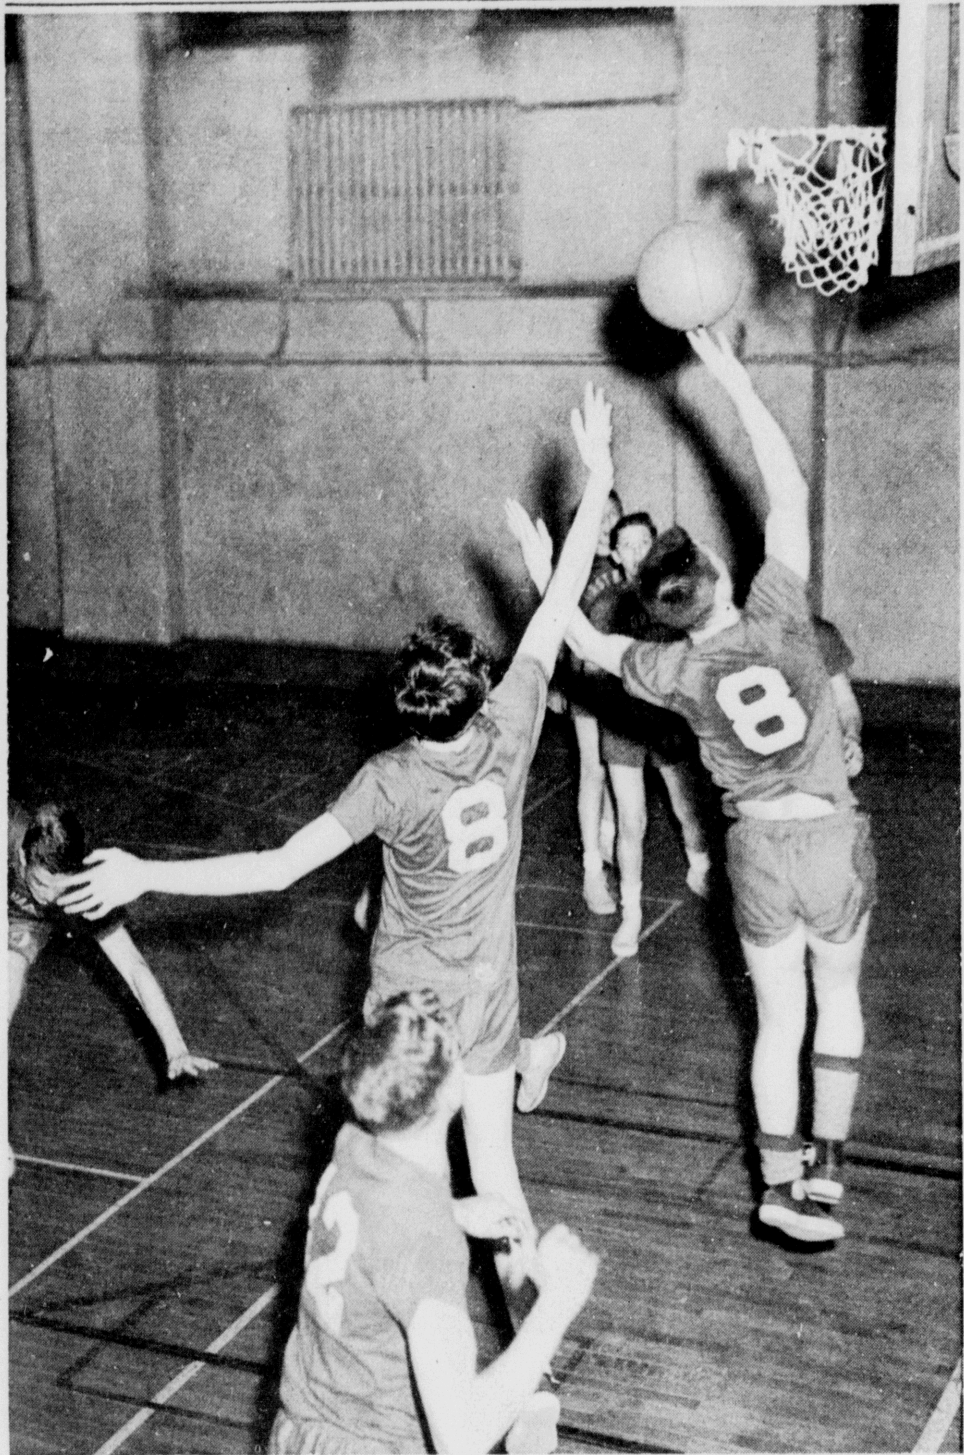

ALTAR VIEW of the beautifully remodeled First Presbyterian Church of Warren.

LOOKING AWAY from the First Presbyterian Church altar with a camera gives some indication of how spacious the main part of the sanctuary is since it was remodeled and redecorated.

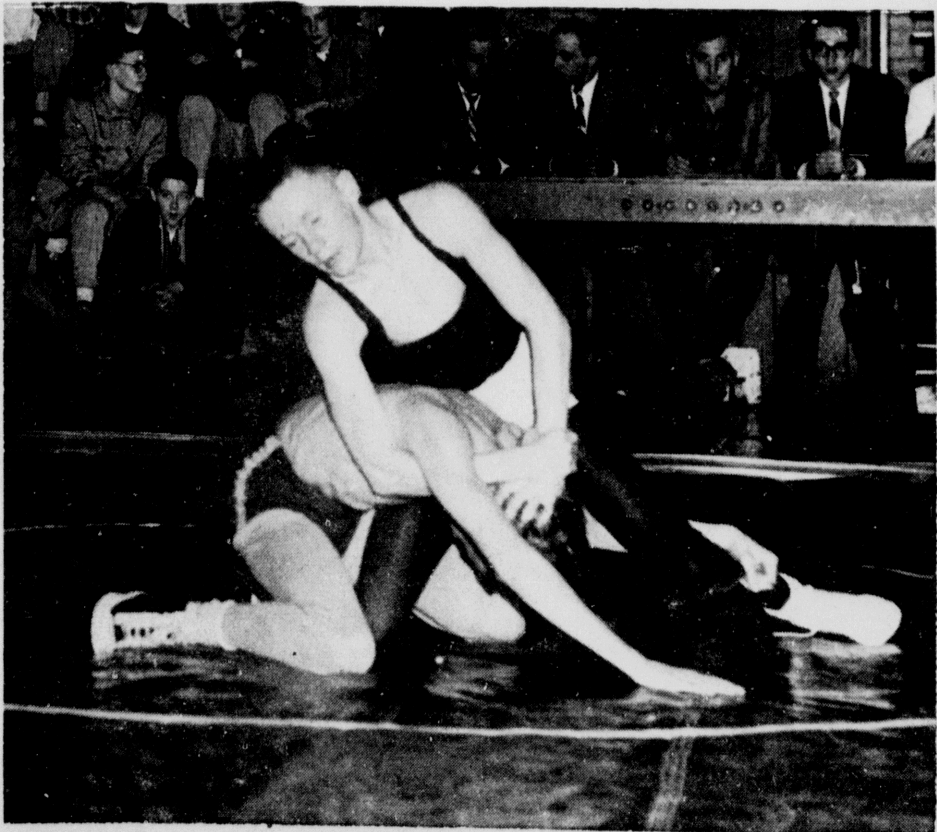

LOTS OF PRACTICE by Warren high school girls has resulted in many performed for the cameraman during a session in the school gymnasium.

TWO OF TWENTY-ONE. Craig Wyman goes up to tally two of the 21 counters he scored to lead Grace Methodist to a 70-50 victory over the First Baptist on the Grace gym Monday night.

NEAREST THE CAMERA in first period action is Gail Page. He pinned East's Holden Thursday to add to the Warren victory.

95-POUNDER Larry Campbell won a hard-fought decision over Erie East's Henderson with this kind of action on the Beaty mats last Thursday.

SALES TAX FAX No. 1

SAVE TIME, PENALTIES AND EXPENSE
BY FILING YOUR 1956 ANNUAL RETURN BY FEB. 28!

Every person selling, using, or leasing property, who is required to collect the 3 per cent Selective Sales and Use Tax, must file an Annual Return.

This Return covers the period from March 7, 1956 through December 31, 1956. It must be submitted by February 28, 1957.

If you have not obtained a license, as required by law, you must register and pay all tax due on or before February 28, 1957 to avoid substantial penalties.

If you have a license, but have failed to file the required monthly returns, you must make a full disclosure of the tax due on the 1956 Annual Return Form WITH PAYMENT IN FULL.

License applications, Annual Return Forms and information may be obtained at any of the following district offices of the Bureau of Sales and Use Tax:

SELECTIVE CUTTING INCREASES GROWTH AND VALUE OF TIMBER

By Lewis Crippen

When a farmer decides to "cash in" on his timber and sells his forested acres "lock, stock, and barrel" to the highest bidder, he's losing the most valuable crop his land can grow. Without tending, the forest will produce for centuries with selective cutting periodically as the natural growth allows. Once it has been completely cut over by those who seek the fast dollar it will probably lie as waste land and have value to no one for years while a new growth battles the scrub trees, thistles, and thorns which seek to destroy the ground's fertility by over production.

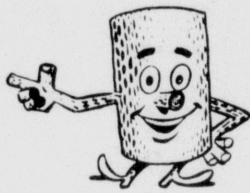

A few weeks ago, the Warren County Commissioners in their capacity as commissioners of the Rouse Estate decided to have the forested land of the County Home checked for possible cutting. Charles S. Merroth, district forester for the Department of Forests and Waters, cruised the timber lot and marked the trees which would have commercial value and should be removed for the proper growth and development of the remaining trees.

Experts have determined that land of normal fertility can maintain approximately 5,000 bd. ft. of good trees. When nature does its own thinning, as it will to a certain degree, there is always too much overcrowding and trees will begin to deteriorate before reaching maximum growth. Proper planning and harvesting will encourage the growth of the best trees by removing the competitors when they are marketable. The land owner will gain by steady annual income and by being sure that his land produces all of which the area is capable.

The Department of Forests and Waters will select an expert to HEAVY MACHINERY which is used by the mill to remove the timber will actually aid reproduction. The seed will land in the tractor tracks and have a better chance of rooting than if it landed on leaves or stones. If the standing trees are not damaged, the new growth will be improved by marks of the machinery's activities.

This picture also illustrates how many trees are left growing after the marketable trees have been sawed. Obviously, more trees could have been sold but the expert believes they will make their greatest growth during the next ten years since the competing trees have been removed. By 1966, the forest should be checked again and reproduction tabulated. Then the ripe trees can be selected and their removal will encourage the natural growth of the forest.

Keep Our State Green

cruise your land and advise which trees should be sold and help you plan the future of your woodlot. It will cost you nothing and could pay you a handsome income for the rest of your life.

TO PROTECT THE LANDOWNER and guarantee that only marked trees are removed by the purchaser, a yellow paint spot is placed about four feet from the ground and another on the stump. The marks can be checked even after the trees have been removed to the mill.

Too many individuals sell standing woodlots without accurate knowledge of the crop's value. The Department can check your forest and give you an estimate of the number of trees which should be removed, the species, and the number of board feet involved. Then, and only then, will you know if the proposed purchaser is offering a fair price.

REMOVING COMPETITION is the most important factor in deciding which trees should be sold. Here, for example, one tree has been removed to make way for others. Mr. Merroth points to a tree which will benefit greatly from the additional space. The fallen tree absorbed most of the sunlight and could have stunted the growth of the remaining trees in the picture.

Removing trees also allows the sunlight to reach the ground thus stimulating the growth of foliage which encourages wild life. Tops and trimmings may be allowed to remain in the forest as it is not only good cover for small game but also provides protection for cherry growth whose tender sprouts are eaten by grazing deer if not covered. Pieces 4 inches and greater in diameter can be sold as stove wood.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS TOO LATE for this log. Overcrowding has caused deterioration to become established and one large portion of the tree must be discarded. About one-quarter century ago the tree reached the maximum growth, considering the conditions, and since that time has been decreasing in value. If it had been removed earlier it would have brought a better price and other trees would have benefited from the lesser competition.

Fires are the greatest hazard to the timber lot. The great amount of heat races across the terrain destroying the humus or organic matter often to depths of 12 to 14 inches. Tree roots are destroyed causing death to many trees of varying sizes. The destruction of organic matter causes a sterility of the soil which prohibits growth of foliage and breaking down of leaves and other soil builders.

Second in destructive abuses is the use of the forest land as pasture. Large animals grazing among the trees leave horn marks and other bark deformities which stunt growth and encourage diseases. Many potentially valuable wood lots have been made worthless when the farmer refused to separate timber from pasture. The animals tread on the land causing compaction of the soil which hampers absorption of rain and increases run off. Cattle eat the sprouts practically eliminating natural reproduction, and destroying the long-range value of the woodlot.

Most woodland will reseed itself. If you intend to plant open land to trees it is best to consult the local office of the Department of Forests and Waters for advice as to the species which grow best in Warren County. It could be your most lucrative harvest. The state and nation are so concerned with reforestation that programs have been developed through which you can receive financial aid to purchase the tree seedlings, machinery for planting, and expert's guidance. All you risk is your labor.

EXPERIMENT IN TV

In Bartlesville, Okla., a city of some twenty-thousand homes, the nation's first commercial television system is being set up. It is expected that by late spring or early summer the system will be in operation. TV subscribers will pay $9.50 per month for the new "utility". Local telephone and power company poles will accommodate the new wire line and a closed theater is being remodeled to house other equipment.

The project is estimated to cost $300,000. The neighborhood movie house may be on the way out if this innovation in TV distribution becomes widespread. In Bartlesville, the promoters will lease current films from major distributors on the same basis that they are now leased to movie houses.

THERE'LL BE SOME CHANGES

Art Carney, Jackie Gleason's indispensable crutch, and Nanette Fabray are rumored as considering teaming up to do a "Min and Bill" television series.

Your Hit Parade may see in the No. 1 spot, "There'll Be Some Changes Made", as it is almost a certainty that Giselle MacKenzie will be singing "So Long Forever" at the end of this season. Her farewell will be for the program only as guest appearances and perhaps a show of her own are in her future. Rosemary Clooney is said to be first in line for Giselle's spot on the Parade. 'Tis said Snooky Lanson may also be looking over the fence toward greener pastures.

TWO MORE NEW ONES

Screen Gems, Inc. is about to make a new filmed series which will be ready for the TV market next fall. It will be filmed in England with British actor, Roger Moore, in the title role. Name of the series? "Ivanhoe". Already we have "Adventures of Sir Lancelot". Much knighthood is in flower, methinks.

"Shore Leave", the Navy's reputed answer to Sgt. Bilko, is being readied for an early autumn debut. Comedian Pete Marshall will co-star with Paul Gilbert in the new series.

PIE FOR "TODAY"

Winner of the national cherry pie baking contest will drive up in a handsome cab outside the "Today" studio in New York City with "the largest pie in the world", on tomorrow morning's "Today" show (Friday, February 22). This one we don't savor -- the publicity says: after touring the country, the pie will be presented to President Eisenhower.

NANCY ON TV AGAIN

Tidioute's Nancy King has made another nation-wide network appearance, this time on last Sunday evening's ED SULLIVAN SHOW. We received the good word too late for this column but for those who were tuned in to the competing network show, Nancy did a dramatic bit with Met singer Jussi Bjoerling. Sullivan referred to her as "the beautiful Nancy King". He might also have added "talented and versatile".

EMMY NOMINATIONS

Last week's Saturday Color Carnival featured the Emmy Awards nominations. To date, this was the most entertaining presentation of any "nominations" show. We hope the actual award-naming in March will be on the same level.

DIAL SPINNERS

PRINCETON SEMINARY CHOIR will be featured on the NBC religious program "Frontiers of Faith" at 1:30 p. m. this coming Sunday. Members of the choir will be questioned by host Ray Middleton as to why they are studying for the ministry. The group will sing, "Lord, Speak To Me That I May Speak", "He That Dwelleth in the Secret Place of the Most High", "O Come, O Come Emmanuel", "O Sacred Head Now Wounded", "Salvation Belongeth to Our God", "There Is a Balm in Gilead", "I Wonder As I Wander", and "Rise Up, O Men of God".

"THE PRINCESS BACK HOME" will be the Goodyear Playhouse presentation at 9 p. m. this Sunday. An original play written for television by prize-winning dramatist John Van Druten, it will feature Evelyn Varden and Abigail Keillogg, and cast in the starring roles will be Celeste Holm, John Beal and Richard Derr.

"THE STRANGE LODGER" on Saturday night's Science Fiction Theater will be about a strange little man who transmits mysterious signals over his television antenna while a bright light moves around miles above the earth.

"LIFEBOAT" with Tallulah Bankhead, William Bendix, Hume Cronyn and others, will be the Saturday Playhouse movie on Channel 4's late spot. In case you have forgotten, it's the story of eight people thrown together in a lifeboat after their ship has been torpedoed in mid-Atlantic.

"THE UNSINKABLE MRS. BROWN" will be Sunday's Telephone Hour presentation, a true story of the scullery maid in Hannibal, Mo., who grew up to be a Denver society leader and a heroine of the Titanic disaster.

"BOOMTOWN PADRE" will star Dick Foran as the preacher who must repair the rough Nevada mining town's bitter hates, born of the still-raging Civil War. This is on "Crossroads", ABC's show honoring the work of clergymen, February 22, 8:30-9:00 p. m.

CHEVY SHOW, Friday night, will originate from the Fat Stock Show and Championship Rodeo in Houston, Tex. Starring Roy Rogers, Dale Evans, Trigger, and Trigger, Jr., the show will feature bareback bronc riding, wild steer wrestling and other rodeo events.

"POSSESSED", Lux Video Theatre's show for Thursday evening, February 28, will star Laraine Day in the drama of a woman, who under the influence of a narcotic, reveals a life of frustration, turmoil and murder.

RAY BOLGER'S WASHINGTON SQUARE will have Ann Sothorn as guest on the February 24 show. In this music, comedy and dancing series, Ray Bolger is unofficial mayor of a theatrical community. Also members of the show are Elaine Strich, Rusty Draper, Kay Armen, The Martins and Bill and Cora Baird.

YEHUDI MENUHIN, violinist, will appear on the Steve Allen Show next Sunday p. m. Other guests will be singer Brenda Lee and actress Arlene Dahl.

NOAH'S ARK, February 26, will feature "The Intruder". This is the last episode in this series. Young veterinarian Dr. Noah McCann, with friends, keeps an all night vigil to solve the mystery of an intruder who has been stealing dog food. The investigation nets them a litter of pups and a special human problem.

FORD SHOW will have as guest stars Jeanne Carson on February 28 and Andy Devine on March 7.

BEWARE OF Leroy Schneck, program director of WNAE. The man is reported to be carrying a tiny tape recorder on his person and what you say may come out on the airwaves. If he doesn't have a mike in his fist, either be still or careful.

ANOTHER CHANNEL is being added to the Warren Television Corporation lines. Altoona will be converted from channel 10 to channel 5. Lines in the East Fifth ave. area have been serviced. Other amplifier locations will be converted soon and announcements made.

Now receiving the four channels are homes on Redwood, Myrtle, Roy, Pioneer, Lookout, and portions of Verback, Center, Prospect, Orchard, Brook, and East Fifth.

WEEK END SPORTS EVENTS

CHAMPIONSHIP BOUT for the welterweight crown will be a 15-round Friday night on Cavalcade of Sports. Champion Carmen Basilio will defend his title against contender and former champ Johnny Saxton in Cleveland Arena. This will be a rubber match, as Saxton won the welterweight title from Basilio on a disputed 15-round decision in Chicago last March 14 and Basilio regained it September 12 in a ninth-round knockout in Syracuse. Neither has fought since then. The Friday night event was originally scheduled for January 18 but postponed five weeks when Basilio injured his hand in training. Coverage will be by NBC television and radio.

PRO BASKETBALL on Saturday afternoon will see the Syracuse Nationals vs. Minneapolis Lakers. MAJOR LEAGUE HOCKEY, also Saturday afternoon via CBS pits the Chicago Black Hawks against the Detroit Red Wings.

RACING from Hialeah Park Saturday afternoon carries the $100,000 Widener Handicap. Summer Tan and Bardstown are the favorites.

BOWLING will see Buzz Fazio challenge Andy Varipapa (this week elected to the Bowling Hall of Fame). We predict Buzz will beat the old master.

AN ANTITRUST complaint has been filed by the Department of Justice against Jerrold Electronics Corp., of Philadelphia. NEW HAIR COLORS AND STYLES were introduced to Warren County beauticians during the demonstration held Sunday afternoon in the LaVogue Beauty Salon. Under the auspices of the Warren County Hairdressers Assn., officers of the Pennsylvania Hair Fashion Committee spent several hours developing coiffures on Warren models.
Mrs. Mercedes Reilly, of Pittsburgh, the committee's stylist director, was in charge of the demonstration.

In this picture, Leonard Kaminski, of Latrona, treasurer, puts the finishing touches on this style worn by Lois Moravek. Lois has pink champagne hair colored by Ray Nichols. Watching the operation are (left to right) Urban Roza, of Tidioute, Ray Nichols, president of the Warren County Hairdressers Assn., and Charles Andiorio, of Pittsburgh, president of the Pennsylvania Hair Fashion Committee.
Approximately fifty Warren County beauticians were in attendance.

In Brief

NAB HOLD-UP MEN. A pair of Erie men were brought to Warren County jail about 4:30 this morning and will likely be arraigned this afternoon on a charge of armed hold-up. The two, Lynn Matthews and Ronald Brown, allegedly held up Mary's Inn near Columbus at 11:50 a. m. Wednesday of 15 to 20 dollars.

Area law officials had been alerted and conducted a continuous look-out. They were apprehended by James-town officers about midnight.

SURPLUS FOOD will be distributed in Warren County on Wednesday, February 27. The items consist of cheese, milk, rice, flour and corn meal.

CANDIDATES for the coming primaries will be considered at a meeting of the Democratic County committee at 8 o'clock Monday evening in the Grange Hall on Warren's South side.

The meeting has been called by co-chairmen Robert Clark and Chester Walker.

JAYCEES met for their regular monthly meeting in the YMCA Wednesday night and voted unanimously to join the Warren Community Development association, an organization recently formed by the Chamber of Commerce to plan the orderly development of Warren County.

Chairman Bill Clinger announced June 29-July 5 as the tentative dates for this year's 1957 Fourth of July celebration and Dan Goldthwaite reported on the progress of the Community Ambassador program.

Other future projects of the organization discussed were the Flag Sale, Teen-Age Road-e-o, and the Jr. Citizenship award.

FAILURE TO STOP at a stop sign resulted in an accident and arrest of Sidney A. Fitzgerald, 13 W. Fifth ave., on Saturday. The incident occurred at 11:28 a. m. when Fitzgerald hit an auto driven by Mary Helen Johnson, North Warren, at the intersection of East st. and Second ave. Over $500 damage resulted.

$500 DAMAGE was caused in a two-car tangle at the intersection of Conewango ave. and Pioneer st. at 12:15 a. m. Saturday involving Thomas Schaeffer, 35 Pleasant dr., and Andrew Lucks, 423 McPherson.

The former had stopped on Conewango and was backing into McPherson when his auto was hit on the left side by Lucks, who was proceeding from behind on the avenue.

GERMAN EDUCATION. The first beginning class and registration for beginning German adult education will be conducted next Tuesday in room 104 at Warren high school. The class taking the 30-hour course will meet weekly for two hours under instructor Edward Zulak. Those interested should register with the high school principal.

AN ADVANCE COMMITTEE to study and make plans for a three-year program was named at the monthly board of directors meeting of the YMCA Monday evening. Harold S. Hampson is chairman and working with him are Richard Betts, Roy L. Blodgett, G. Weston Ensworth and S. Knox Harper.

OPEN HOUSE will be observed at Sylvania's new Plastics plant, now in complete operation, on Wednesday, March 6.

LAUNCH CAMPAIGN. The Warren Art Group has launched its second annual campaign for the Art Sponsors Fund to make possible a permanent collection of contemporary paintings to be hung in the Warren high school.

Last Spring the group held its first exhibition of paintings by area artists and from it three outstanding paintings, by recognized artists, were purchased. Two were oils and one casein.

The organization considers this as a nucleus of a fine collection and is now inviting the public to join in the venture.

A similar project has worked in Latrobe high school for the past 15 years, and now the collection is valued at $35,000.

The contributions of $1.00 or more to be a sponsor and $5.00 or more a patron, are used exclusively for buying paintings. The invited artists bear the entire cost of transportation.

Checks can be made payable to Art Sponsors Fund, Mrs. Gerald Newton, treasurer.

HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS of a major nature investigated by State Police since last Thursday numbered five. At 4:40 p. m. Thursday in Garland, Alvin Hainer, Pittsfield, lost control of his car and wound up causing $2000 in damages. He first hit a vehicle owned by Russell Parker, Garland, which was parked in a drive, and then came back on the highway and struck a tractor operated by John Taydus, Pittsfield. No one was seriously injured.

Three mishaps occurred Saturday, two of them just north of Warren on Route 62. At 11:15 p. m. Bertha Ashbaugh, Kane, escaped injury when she lost control and rolled her car on its top. The second caused $200 damage and happened when Merritt Gray, North Warren, and John Anderson, Akeley, sideswiped while travelling in opposite directions. The other was on Route 6 in Clarendon where Don Wilson, Clarendon, turned left and was struck by Richard Barner, Sheffield, as he attempted to pass. About $300 damage was caused.

Between three and four thousand dollars damage was caused on Route 27 near Garland Monday when Howard Hauptert, Orville, Ohio, lost control of his semi-trailer. He escaped injury when his truck struck an abutment and caught fire.

PERSONALITIES. Miss Ursula Johnson, executive secretary of the Warren-Forest Counties Girl Scout Council, will be in Washington, D. C., next week attending Girl Scout conference meetings.

Rabbi Fred Ackerman, Tiphereth Israel Congregation of Warren, will be among the teen-age leaders representing 25 congregations affiliated with the Western New York and Ontario, Canada, chapter, of the Yeshiva University Snyagogue Council Youth, who are gathering for a regional conclave today through Sunday in Toronto, Canada.

MEN IN SERVICE. Donald E. Spink, airman apprentice in the U. S. Navy, is now serving at the Naval Air Station, Lakehurst, N. J. He was transferred there from Memphis, Tenn. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon R. Spink, 20 W. Third ave., Warren, he entered the service in April 1956. Prior to that he attended Northern Area high school.

AT WARREN HIGH. Four Warren seniors have been commended by the National Merit Scholarship corp. for distinguished performance in its nationwide search for students of unusual ability. Named were Richard Aldrich, Stanley Lindberg, Thomas McCune and Richard Reynolds. The young men were among the top one or two per cent in ability in the state.

NEW TV RECEPTION. A project spearheaded by the North Warren Civic club came to a head Tuesday night at a meeting of the citizenry. At this time interested people of the town elected to work toward the installation of a television translator station to improve TV reception in the area. Only a handful of votes were cast favoring a line service.

Such a station would likely be located on the hill directly across the Conewango Creek from the State Hospital main entrance. The translator would pick up the VHF and translate it into UHF for good local reception. A home converter will be needed and a small antenna.

According to present plans three channels (Buffalo 2 and 4, and Johnstown at least temporarily) would be received. The equipment, which is made by the Adler Electronics firm, will cost $2800 per channel.

A canvass has already started to sign up people who would support the project and officials heading the program state that at least 250 homes must cooperate on a voluntary basis to make it feasible.

MRS. DALE STORER

Miss Charlotte Wentworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wentworth, Pittsfield, was united in marriage to Mr. Dale Storer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Storer, Tidioute, in a ceremony performed Saturday, February 16, at the Pittsfield Evangelical United Brethren Church.

The bride is a 1953 graduate of Youngsville high school and a graduate of the WCA Hospital School of Nursing in Jamestown, N. Y., in the Class of 1956.

The groom was a member of the 1951 Tidioute high school graduating class and has two years of service with the U. S. Army engineers. He is now employed at Daelhausen Lumber corp. in Enterprise.

SPORTS CAR SHOW

The nation's only auto show devoted entirely to sports cars will be held in the Henry Ford museum, from March 2 to March 24. Everything from the early Simplex, Mercer, 1924 Marmen, and a 1925 Stutz to the latest American and foreign makes will be seen.

Twenty thousand square feet of floor space in the eleven-acre exhibition hall will be used, and there will be a fashion show featuring apparel for sports car wear. Films of auto races will be shown constantly during the exhibit.

The sports car already is playing a major role in the American motorist's life, and if prosperity keeps up it will be seen prolifically in all towns and on all highways. Foreign car agencies are moving inland and are prospering in many small cities. The second hand foreign car is entering the family picture, and young America is tinkering with the foreign importations.

As soon as those breezes warm up enough to let the top down in near comfort, the sputter-mites will be swarming into the back country, and color will return to faces made pale by a long winter. And right with them will be the American convertibles which many prefer, due to their comfort, size, and added safety features.

An idea of how many sports car makes now are being marketed will be seen in the number to be exhibited at the show. Fifty-five makes from England, France, Germany, and the United States will be seen.

BOATS ATTRACT

Despite our rather unclean river condition, the Montgomery Ward boat show attracted many sportsmen and ladies last week. A complete line of outboard boats, from light aluminum models to large plywood craft, were on the floor, complete with trailers (a slight extra charge).

The fact that so many attended the show, despite its being limited to one make of boats, revealed the basic interest in water pleasure in this area. Given a clean river and such shows would not have enough space in any Warren building. A clean river, if made so by a dam, also would be a river well supplied with water throughout the summer months. This would mean longer stretches of water for motoring. Provide the medium and channels will result in key riffles that limit travel. Give the sportsmen something with which to work and he will find a way to expand his pleasure. Right now it is rather limited where boats are concerned.

However, the trailer idea sheds a new light on the sport. All of these boats rode on convenient trailers. They had rubber tires and were equipped with winches for pulling the boats from the water onto the trailer.

Pick your stretch of water, back to the shoreline and let'er go. And that is why the state fish commission is talking about access to streams and lakes. The public will participate in water sports if it can get to the water. Equipped with boat, trailer, and gear for either fishing or touring, the water enthusiast is ready to go. . . but will be high and dry if access to the water is not assured.

The interest obviously is there. One of these days we expect boating to be a popular and common sport in the Warren area.

PLAY AND STUDY

It is not too early to be making plans for courses you may wish to take at Chautauqua next summer. Most of the courses carry resident university credit, at a tuition cost of $28 per credit hour for undergraduates and $30 per credit hour for graduates.

And while you are picking up this extra knowledge and these valuable credits during the summer months you have the best of drama, music, and lecture programs available for your pleasure. In addition there is the lake, golf, and a healthy summer in the out-of-doors.

Courses include: The legal basis of education, several courses in educational psychology, three in elementary education, principles and methods of modern teaching, educational sociology, two courses in secondary education, seven courses in art, one in ceramics, elements of acting, play production, senior writing conference, Shakespeare plays, English literature background, opera and society, international relations, modern European political theory, ethics, nursing in schools, public health nursing methods, writing for new literates, and a few others, plus some that may be added.

There also is the school of music which provides training in voice, piano, strings, flute, organ, orchestral instruments, and special classes, such as memorizing and playing from memory, ear training, orchestra conducting, and many others.

There are adult education courses in a range of subjects, from English and speech to foreign language, music, dancing, hobbies, and business.

There is a school of photography, summer high school courses, a theatre school, an art center with painting, drawing, and sculpturing, weaving, and others.

We can't list all of it here. If you are interested it would be best for you to write Ralph McCallister, director of education, Chautauqua, New York. Literature telling the complete story now is ready for distribution.

BOWLING

TOURNAMENT PLANS

The annual tournament of the Warren Bowling Association will be discussed at a meeting to be held Sunday, at 5:30, in the Penn Bowling Center. The site and the dates will be the main topics of the evening.

LITTLE ANDY SCORES

Andy Varipapa, who used four holes in his ball and his sixty-six years to good advantage on TV this week to beat Steve Nagy, also has earned other honors. He has been elected to the Bowling Hall of Fame. It was not many years ago, when he was far older than most of his competitors, that he won the match game championship, despite its grueling string of games. And just to prove it wasn't a mistake he went out the next year and did it again.

LOCAL WHEELS

Locally the boys found the pins tumbling right well. Frank Gerardi had 635 in the City league, where Pete Juliano fired 611.

Frank also likes proof, and he provided it with a 242 game and 632 in the Junior Industrial, where Baldy Anderegg shot 608. Pete Juliano wasn't far behind with his 631 in the Industrial where Barney Senger had 628.

Andy Randinelli spilled 233 and 620 in the Commercial. George Biehls tossed 233 and 613 in the Merchants.

Tony Molinaro rolled 584 in the American K of C, Al Gnage 581 in the Exservicemen's, Tony Bonavita 234 and 577 in the Shop, Joe Musante 575 in the National K of C, Elg Flick 552 in the Penn Junior, Frank Regina 541 in the Sylvania, and Frank Ristau 526 in the Arcade Junior.

LADY SPILLERS

Vi Sterling topped the feminine field with 216 and 563 in the Major league. Neva Ladner had 210 and 554 and Jake Harvey hit 512 in the same loop.

Jeannette also had 521 in the City league, where Mary Ellen Vizza posted 516, Joan Shetty had 220 and 503, and Red Walsh, 501.

Arline Harrigar led the Minor with 479, Estell Lacy Peg's league with 436, and Vi Grosch the Class C with 421.

MIXED LEAGUES

Gene Pring rolled 550 and Phyllis Rieder 479 for the best in the Friday league. Pete Nichols shot 526 and Caryl Peterson 420 in the Tuesday circuit, and Bill Lucia with 466 and Marian Day with 384 topped the Metzger Wright action.

"Advance the Bomber Line," the story of how American forces in the Pacific took "one island after another," so that heavy bomber bases could be established for the eventual aerial bombardment of dropping "parafrags" (fragmentation bombs attached to parachutes) during a low-level attack on one of the Japanese-held New Guinea islands.

GRADUATES. The forty-four graduates of the Civilian Defense auxiliary police school were honored at a banquet at the Marconi Outing Club Wednesday evening. The group, pictured here, increases the number of auxiliary policemen in the county to 361.

William Fuelhart, county CD director; and George Geracimos, borough manager.

In his address Capt. Dodson pointed out that if one megaton bomb was dropped on Erie there would be 68,000 people dead, 71,000 seriously injured, 11,238 homeless, 45,000 buildings destroyed, 63,000 people hospitalized, and 10,677 evacuees.

Of the 604 regular and auxiliary policemen in Erie, there would be only 334 remaining after the bomb fell. The number of officers needed would be 785.

Rights Are Made Wrong But Wrongs Were Right

By Doris Fleeson

WASHINGTON, -- The psychology of the Eisenhower Administration with respect to accusations of wrong-doing has long seemed to be that there is nothing either good nor bad, but publicity makes it so. Harold Talbott had to quit under fire as Secretary of the Air Force, but it was explained that he was a very honest man and the President gave him a medal. More recently Robert L. Ross resigned as Assistant Secretary of Defense while under similar charges of improperly using his influence for private profit. Ross hasn't got a medal, but the Pentagon firmly insists there is no stain on his character.

In at least two instances, however, the Administration has quietly recorded its own condemnation of deals and officials that in public it defended to the last gasp.

One is the Al Sarena mining case. The other is the speculations in oil stock made by Judge Stanley Barnes when an Assistant Attorney-General in charge of the Anti-Trust Division. Barnes's then first assistant, Edward Foote, was also involved in the speculation matter.

The story of Al Sarena was developed by a joint Senate-House investigating committee. Former Interior Undersecretary Clarence Davis had awarded a mining firm of that name 23 mining patents, covering 454 acres of timberland in the Rogue River National Forest in Southern Oregon.

The firm mined no minerals but cut timber valued by the investigators at $300,000. The committee called it a giveaway and questioned the validity of a special assay ordered by Davis. This showed sufficient mineral possibilities.

Davis was stoutly defended by his superior, the then Secretary Douglas McKay, and by the White House. Since then McKay has been beaten in his race to displace Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon, Al Sarena being one of the issues pressed by Morse. Davis resigned last month.

It now transpires that McKay's successor, Fred Seaton, has rewritten departmental regulations and handed down decisions which would bar actions of the Davis-Al Sarena type. The new administrative procedure, according to interested Congressmen, will save Seaton from any such embarrassments.

Seaton has never admitted fault on the part of either Davis or McKay. Similarly, Attorney-General Brownell has defended Judge Barnes and Foote for their purchases of Warren Petroleum Company stock in the fall of 1955.

Barnes bought $12,000 worth only a few days after the Justice Department announced it would not interfere with the Warren firm's merger with Gulf Oil. Foote had bought $65,000 worth in the name of his wife a few days previously. Both sold their stock about 90 days later.

In a stern booklet called "You and Your Job," the Eisenhower Attorney-General has explained to Justice employees what they can and cannot do. One page is devoted to bans on outside activities connected with the department's work, mentioning speculation of any kind.

Barnes has since been promoted to judge of the Federal Circuit Court. When his oil stock deal was brought to Brownell's attention, the answer was given that the Justice ban on speculation was very general and had failed to distinguish between speculation and investment.

Now the Justice rules have been rewritten to define speculation as a stock or bond investment lasting less than six months. Thus Barnes and Foote would be wrong now just as Davis would be barred from doing that which he was warmly defended for doing.

The big beneficiary of the Eisenhower policy in these matters is, of course, Vice-President Richard M. Nixon. With the aid of his dog,

All Star and Continuous

The five Emmy nominees for the best continuous performance by a female personality -- a designation which sounds downright indecent -- were respectively: Rosemary, Faye, Arlene, Giselle and Dinah. If you need to know the last names of any of those girls, you must have just arrived from the same planet that spewed forth Cyril Ritchard and you wouldn't be especially interested in these matters anyhow. It is one of the wonders and the hazards of television that people get so frighteningly well known that their last names are superfluous. It is also the only reason for the program on which the nugget of information contained above was broken to a breathless world. Would Rosemary, Faye, and the rest be the best continuous females or would they be elbowed out by Edie, Gracie, Nanette, Lucy and Zsa Zsa? Zsa Zsa, after all, has been pretty damned continuous all year.

This is the first year that the Emmy nominations have been the subject of a program. The winners, of course, we're used to. In fact, the annual broadcast of the Emmy winners turned into such a good thing that now we have the nominees and next year, who knows, maybe the losers. There should be some sort of a consolation prize for those continuous females and continuous males who didn't get any votes at all.

The main idea of these hoe-downs is to round up all the names you can find, and I must admit they rounded up quite a collection on both coasts, the other night. Just to give you some idea, there was a sketch in which five (count 'em) cowboy stars alternated making love to Pretty Perky Peggy King. (That must be her name. That's the only thing anyone ever calls her.) This bit was real silly but it WAS profligate and that's the ticket, fellas. Get the names, never mind what they do.

Last fall, when Tommy Dorsey died, Jackie Gleason turned his program over to a full hour memorial which brought out a splendid collection of instrumentalists and vocalists. It was a good show, as a matter of fact, it ran up a splendid rating. I don't mean to impugn the motives of Mr. Gleason, who is a sentimental slob and really meant this only as a memorial program, but the lesson was not lost on the more practical members of the community.

In fact, a shifty-eyed friend instantly dreamed up a TV show called "Funeral of the Week." "These people are dying all the time," he pointed out. "And we can get all the singers, actors and dog acts for scale. How can they refuse when you tell them it's because poor old So-and-So has passed away?" This nefarious individual was even going to advertise a list of pallbearers in all the newspapers.

"Jack Benny will be on all my lists. How can he say he didn't even know the guy if he's dead?" "Suppose nobody dies that week," I asked.

"These things can be arranged," said this bird ominously.

I don't know what became of "Funeral of the Week," but until it comes along we have the Emmy nominees, later the Emmy awards, the Oscar nominees, later the Oscar awards, all of them frightfully all-star. For instance, the other night we got a jazz band with Jackie Cooper on the drums, Steve Allen on the piano, Phil Silvers on clarinet, Tennessee Ernie on the trombone and Wally Cox on a harmonica. It wasn't good, but where else can you get that many people together on a five-way split screen? Unless somebody dies, of course.

Incidentally, the five nominees for the best single program of the year were respectively, one of the Victor Borge shows, Kraft's "Night to Remember," Leonard Bernstein's "History of Musical Comedy" on "Omnibus," "Requiem for a Heavyweight" on Playhouse 90, and "Secret Life of Danny Kaye." I don't know how Kaye crept in there, but the others were very good choices.

Pennsylvania's Beauties Snubbed

See—it works! These three Pennsylvania Queens are pretty pleased that in spite of their regal titles and a basket of Pennsylvania's juiciest apples, Hershey Zoo's tamest deer stays his distance. The reason—a four foot band of a newly developed deer repellent that was sprayed on the ground in a circle around the girls. The repellent, the ingredients of which were developed and tested at the Pennsylvania State University, can be sprayed around whole orchards, grain fields, gardens and shrubs. Trade-named "Magic Circle" and distributed by State College Laboratories of State College, Pa., it is expected to prevent much of the hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of damage done to farm crops annually by deer herds. Oh yes—the girls are: left, Miss Kathleen Foltz, Apple Desert Queen; center, Miss Lorna Ringler, Miss Pennsylvania; and standing, Miss Lois Demmy, Peach Dessert Queen.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 4

Claim All Exemptions for Yourself and Dependents

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. These articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants, and the Pennsylvania Institute Society of Certified Public Accountants in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

Many people overpay their taxes because they cheat themselves on their personal exemptions.

Here is how to count your exemptions (each one takes $600 off your taxable income):

One exemption for yourself, two if you are 65 or over, two if you are blind, three if you are both 65 and blind. The same applies to your husband or wife.

If your husband or wife died during 1956 you can still file a joint return claiming the exemptions, including those for age or blindness, to which the deceased would have been entitled at the time of death.

Who Qualifies

One exemption of $600 can be taken for each person who fits the definition of a dependent. This $600 is not doubled for age or blindness, however, as in the case of your personal exemption.

To count for an exemption, the dependent must:

(1) Have less than $600 gross income for 1956 (except that this does not apply to your child if he is under 19 or is a full-time student).

(2) Have received more than half of his support from you, unless you file a Multiple Support Agreement (see below).

(3) Not file a joint return.

(4) Be either a citizen of the U. S. or a resident of the U. S., Canada, Mexico, Canal Zone, Panama and in some cases, a serviceman's child living in the Philippines.

(5) Live with you (absence while attending school does not interfere) or be a close relative as defined in the instruction book or be a cousin receiving institutional care for a mental or physical disability who had lived with you before going to the institution.

Multiple Support Agreements

If you shared with others in the support of a dependent, but none of you provided more than half the support, you may still be able to arrange among you for one of the group to have the $600 exemption. You might agree, for example, to take turns in having the exemption from year to year.

The one who claims the exemption must have contributed more than 10 percent of the support, and he must be a member of a group who altogether provided more than half support, and that person must have been entitled to claim that dependent except for the requirement of providing more than half support.

In order for one of the group to have the exemption all other members of the group who contributed more than 10 per cent must sign declarations that they will not claim the dependent. The Internal Revenue Service provides Form 2120 (Multiple Support Agreement) for this purpose.

Children and Disabled Dependents

There is a deduction of as much as $600 for care of children under 12 while the breadwinner works. This child-care deduction is available to mothers, widowers, divorced and legally separated persons, who are allowed to deduct expenses paid to someone other than a dependent for the care of a son, daughter, stepson or stepdaughter under the age limit. This regulation also applies to any dependent of any age who is mentally or physically incapacitated.

A working wife is entitled to this deduction if her husband is physically or mentally incapable of providing support. Where the husband is not disabled, the working wife may also take the child-care deduction only if a joint return is filed, and the $600 limit must be reduced by the amount of the couple's gross income exceeds $4500. It should be kept in mind that you can't take this deduction if you take the standard 10 percent deduction.

The instruction book which comes with your tax form gives further information. Help is also available by telephone or at offices of the Internal Revenue Service. The Revenue Service urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you decide to seek outside help.

Observations

By Bob Walsh

MILL VALUE IN WARREN COUNTY SHOULD INCREASE

The various taxing bodies in Warren county should find their millage doing a bit more for them in 1957. Though Warren borough already has set its millage at 26, an increase of one, it may find that it will have a little more than it budgeted.

The natural growth of a live county should result in annual assessed value increases, and the industrial expansion now prevalent in the Warren area should produce far more than a normal jump. Newhomes are being built in every part of the town and area. The few being torn down are of small value and the net figure should be upward.

As for industry we find two of our biggest engaged in record expansion programs, and a third has added a large new plant. The total being spent by two of these industries is close to five million dollars for expansion purposes, and one of them says it has spent five million for improvements in the last four years. A look around will reveal many other expansions, smaller in size but certainly adding to the whole.

Frankly we believe that industry gets off too lightly when assessed valuation is considered. We doubt if local plants could replace their facilities at a price that would equal two and a half times their present assessed valuation.

Of course most of us have two ways of looking at our building costs. When it's taxes we are talking about, the original cost must be considered, not what it would cost to build today. But when it is a base for establishing prices, today's replacement cost is the one we like to use. This explains the ease with which utilities today obtain price advances.

There are some who will say we should leave industry alone out of appreciation for what it does for the community by providing jobs. But we believe it is a two-way street. It is to industry's advantage to have a modern, progressive community in which to do business. And because of this advantage it should be quite willing to pay a major share of the cost.

Many executives realize this and are not reluctant to help a community improve. However, most of them are not apt to make the move. That is up to the assessor and the public officials.

Local taxes do not cost industry the full price of the tax bill. Such taxes are deductible before the federal government moves in for its 52 per cent. A local tax increase of one thousand dollars costs the industry $480 and the federal government $520.

Some of the improvements we have mentioned are not completed and will not show in this year's assessed valuation, but even the normal residential growth together with some industrial and retail additions that have been finished should move that assessed valuation figure upwards.

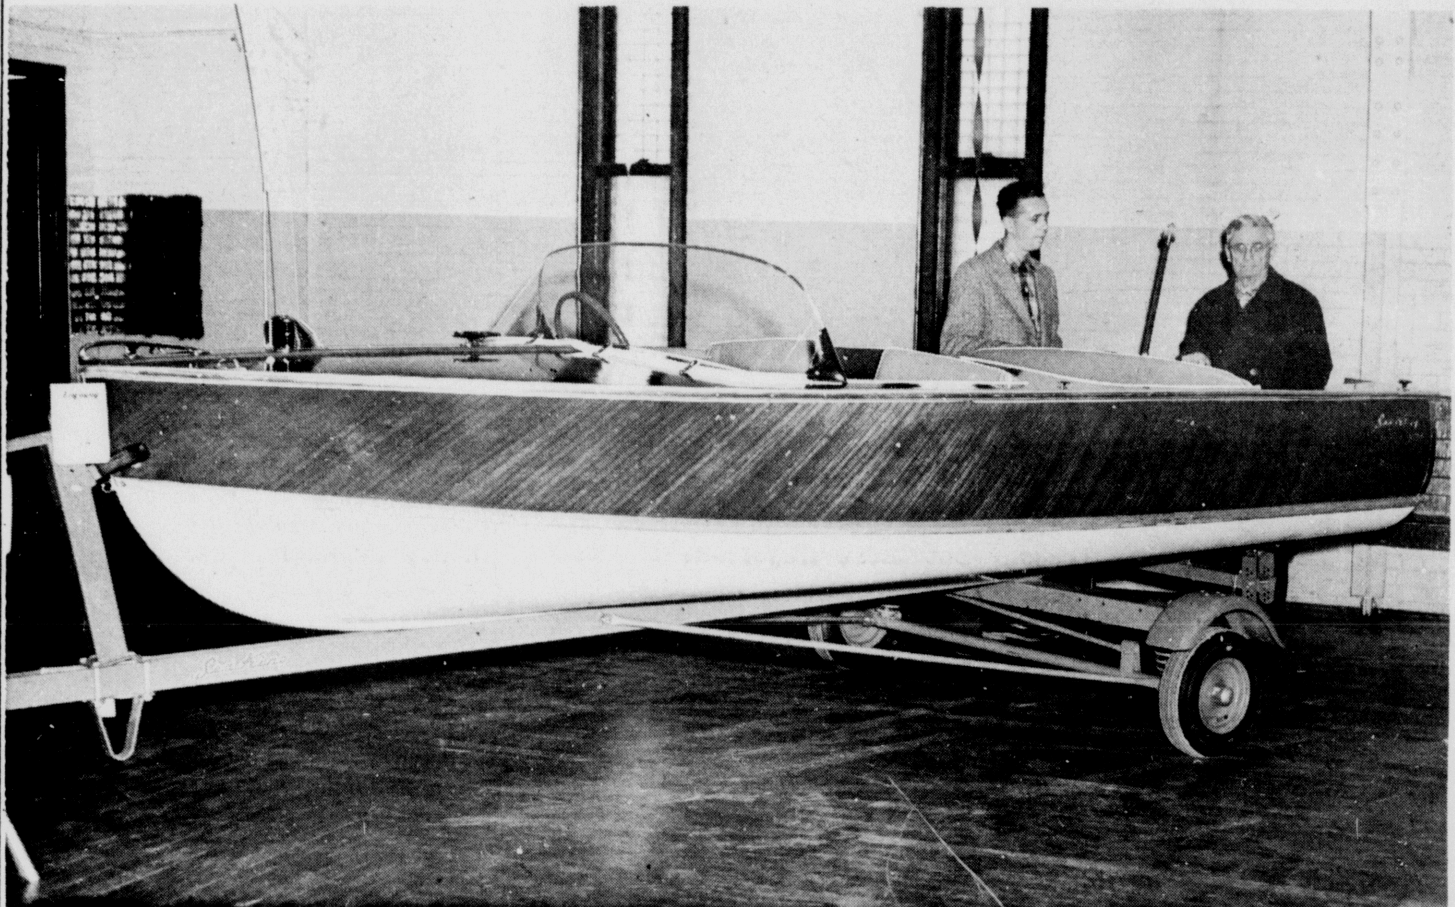

A mill should be worth more today than it was a year ago. And enough additional value to each of twenty-five mills might mean that the twenty-sixth one is not needed. For this reason we will be interested in the new assessment figures.

ASIDES

NOW THEY ACT

The two recent tragedies in homes for retired people apparently will result in some good. It takes a flood to get a dam built. It requires fires and loss of lives to point up conditions that are intolerable.

TRITELY SPEAKING

We wonder what those leading personalities of the world would do when interviewed if they could not use the phrase, "as a matter of fact". As a matter of fact they probably would be speechless.

FLOOD SUPPLY

Winter was fairly well dried up until this last flurry of white stuff. Now we have another supply of flood ammunition stocked away on the hills, and in the deep wooded valleys. Given warm weather, steady rain, climaxed by a cloudburst and those arguments against the Kinzua dam which again have found life will melt away even as the troublesome drifts.

HORSE RACE MONEY

The latest effort to legalize wagers on the ponies is meeting the usual stiff arm of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches. They claim that it will be necessary to wager $500 million and receive a cut of six per cent to yield even $30 million. This would pour $470 million into the pokes of gamblers and promoters.

Texas tried it for four years and gave up when criminal problems developed and there was obvious lowering of income on the part of grocery stores and other business places. It didn't make any more money available, just changed the course of a big share of it.

REAL NEWS

We thought the most sensational news story of the week came over the radio when a reporter said, "The news today is that President Eisenhower will not play golf or go hunting. He will be on the job in case something happens in the world situation."

GOOD PUBLICITY

The most exciting thing about Baby Doll was the arguments in the press which moved us to go. If we hadn't felt it our duty as a newsman to attend we probably never would have bothered. It had sex enough for sure, but no worse than many we have seen, and actually left you to decide that nothing really occurred if you wished to abide by the script. It was well cast, well acted, but was a waste of talent in all departments as far as having any purpose or reason for being filmed.

CRIMINAL PROPOSALS

The new laws which are being proposed in Harrisburg as the state legislature swings into action include three that should bring forth some comment. One would eliminate capital punishment. It has been referred to the judiciary committee.

Then there is one that would authorize the recovery of damages up to $500 from parents of children under 18 who destroy property. This has passed second reading. And there is a similar one that would impose penalties on parents of children who commit certain crimes in an amount not to exceed $100.

But we'll bet the wood shed might be rejuvenated, or something of modern design in the same field, if papa was fined $100 a time or two.

And there are at least two other proposed laws which make parents liable for financial losses caused by juveniles. The amount in these laws would be sufficient to reimburse the damaged.

CORONERS NEED HELP

Legislation is being proposed that would provide a state medical examiner to work in cooperation with local coroners. This was discussed for members of the Warren-Forest County Bar Association at its last meeting by R. Pierson Eaton. Next month Judge Alexander C. Flick will tell them what he as a judge expects from the lawyers who appear before him.

As for that coroner angle, we never have been able to understand why the law didn't require a coroner to be a doctor or make it necessary for a doctor to play a major part in coroner investigations.

YOU CAN DEDUCT

If you are wondering what taxes you can deduct when arriving at your income tax figure, they include: personal property taxes, state income taxes, real estate taxes, state or local sales taxes, state gasoline taxes, auto license fee, state capitation or poll taxes, local wage tax.

You cannot deduct federal excise taxes on your personal expenditures, federal social security, hunting licenses, dog licenses, water taxes, auto inspection fees, or taxes on another person.

1114 pounds of milk per cow, with an average of 42.7 pounds of butterfat.

Ronald Messenger led Unit 2 with 26 cows and an average of 1116, but the butterfat average was 36.2. Highest butterfat percentage was produced by the herd of 31 belonging to Robert Scott. His average poundage was 792, and his butterfat average was 37.2 for a percentage of 4.70. Other leaders were Lester Peterson, Lindell Brothers, and Leigh Smith.

The best cow for the month was Marie, owned by R. Messenger. She put out 2297 pounds of milk. But the most butterfat was 90 pounds produced by Juliette, owned by Carleton Curtis. Her milk poundage was only 1476, giving her a percentage of 6.1. However, the best percentage was 7.8, accomplished by Bonnie Hope, also owned by Curtis. Her milk total was 1102 of which 86 pounds was butterfat.

Figures released by the Holstein-Friesian Association reveal that the Rosecliffe Farm was eighth highest in the state for average milk poundage. Its 29 cows averaged 14,487 for the 305 days tested, producing 572 pounds of butterfat, a percentage of 3.94 for the year.

WHO'S NEXT?

It has been a week of faux pas for those who deal in words. Leroy Schneck called the Thunderbolt siren that was tested for civilian defense in Warren a Thundermug. And you don't hardly see those no more. The Warren Times Mirror had a couple exchanging "cows" at the altar. We go to press trembling. The pixies are having a glossological ball this week.

TAXES NOT HURTING

Those taxes aren't hurting the big fellow quite so much these days. We note that the annual Sylvania report shows a profit of $25,906,189 for 1956. This is less than the $27,912,970 of 1955. But the net profit after taxes is not much less. In 1955 the net was $13,812,970. In 1956 with less profit the net was $13,706,189, only about $100,000 less despite the two million dollars difference before taxes.

HARVARD HELPS 2,215

The kind of help that is available for young people who want a college education these days may be seen in figures released by Harvard university. Nearly one half of Harvard's 4,430 undergraduates are receiving financial aid from the school this year. This help comes through scholarships, loans, and part time employment.

More than one million dollars has been awarded for scholarships alone. Involved are 1,230 undergraduates. Another 550 are receiving long term loans, not payable until the schooling is completed, and then at $10 a month plus ten per cent interest. The loans total $225,000.

Jobs are provided for about 1200 students in the dormitories, dining halls, and university offices. They are earning about $450,000. Another $200,000 will be earned in the community. There are some students who have scholarships, a loan, and are working.

Our point is that if Harvard, an old Ivy school, is doing this much for the students, you can be sure that most schools are reaching out with a financial lift if you go after it. But the time to ask is not next June. In fact it may be a little late right now. You can't move too fast.

And another wrinkle we believe will help many is the suggestion that you do not avoid expensive schools. Harvard is proof of what we mean. You are more apt to obtain real help from a large school or an expensive one than you are from the small or inexpensive schools.

When the tuition comes low, the help is apt to be the same. And it will cost you just as much to eat, buy clothing, and live no matter where you go unless you have excessive social ambitions.

A good education does not come cheap, in money, time, or effort. And where the education is really good the help is apt to match it.

MORE FROM YOUR CHICKENS

The nation's chicken professionals will be visiting Pennsylvania State university next week when a poultry housing conference will be held. They came from twenty-one states for last year's conference.

The solar house flocks will be compared with conventional house birds. Cage versus floor management of laying hens will be a major topic. Windowless houses and slatted floors will be other new developments discussed.

OIL BY AIR

If there is any gas or oil left under the deeper sands of this area, a Pennsylvania House committee wants to find out. A bill introduced by Assemblyman Allen Gibson and three others, including James K. Davis, of Forest county, would direct the State Department of Internal Affairs to finance an aerial magnetometer survey in fifteen northwestern counties to learn if there are oil and gas potentialities here. The underwater resources of Lake Erie also are involved.

With gas wells being drilled in some new Warren county areas, this kind of survey intrigues many.

HOME CALENDAR

(Timely Reminders from Pennsylvania State University)

TRY TASTY TOAST - For special toast, spread bread with butter to which a little lemon juice and grated lemon rind have been added. Toast under the broiler, suggests Marjorie Wormeck, Penn State extension nutritionist.

TREAT TOWELS CAREFULLY - Don't iron terry towels. This flattens out the loops, makes the surface harsh, and lessens the towel's absorbency, according to Helen Bell, Penn State extension home management specialist.

QUICK SET GELATIN - To quick-set gelatin, dissolve contents of package in one cup of hot or boiling water. Add one cup of ice water. Pour gelatin into molds. Set molds in cracked ice and chill in refrigerator, says Louise Hamilton, Penn State extension nutrition specialist.

TO REMOVE GUM - To remove gum from carpets, moisten it with a nonflammable cleaning fluid and allow it to soften. Then work it loose with a dull knife, suggests Doris Snook, Penn State extension home management specialist.

APPLIANCE CARE - Always disconnect small electric appliances before wiping with a damp cloth. Moisture and electricity are a bad combination, cautions Doris Snook, Penn State extension home management specialist.

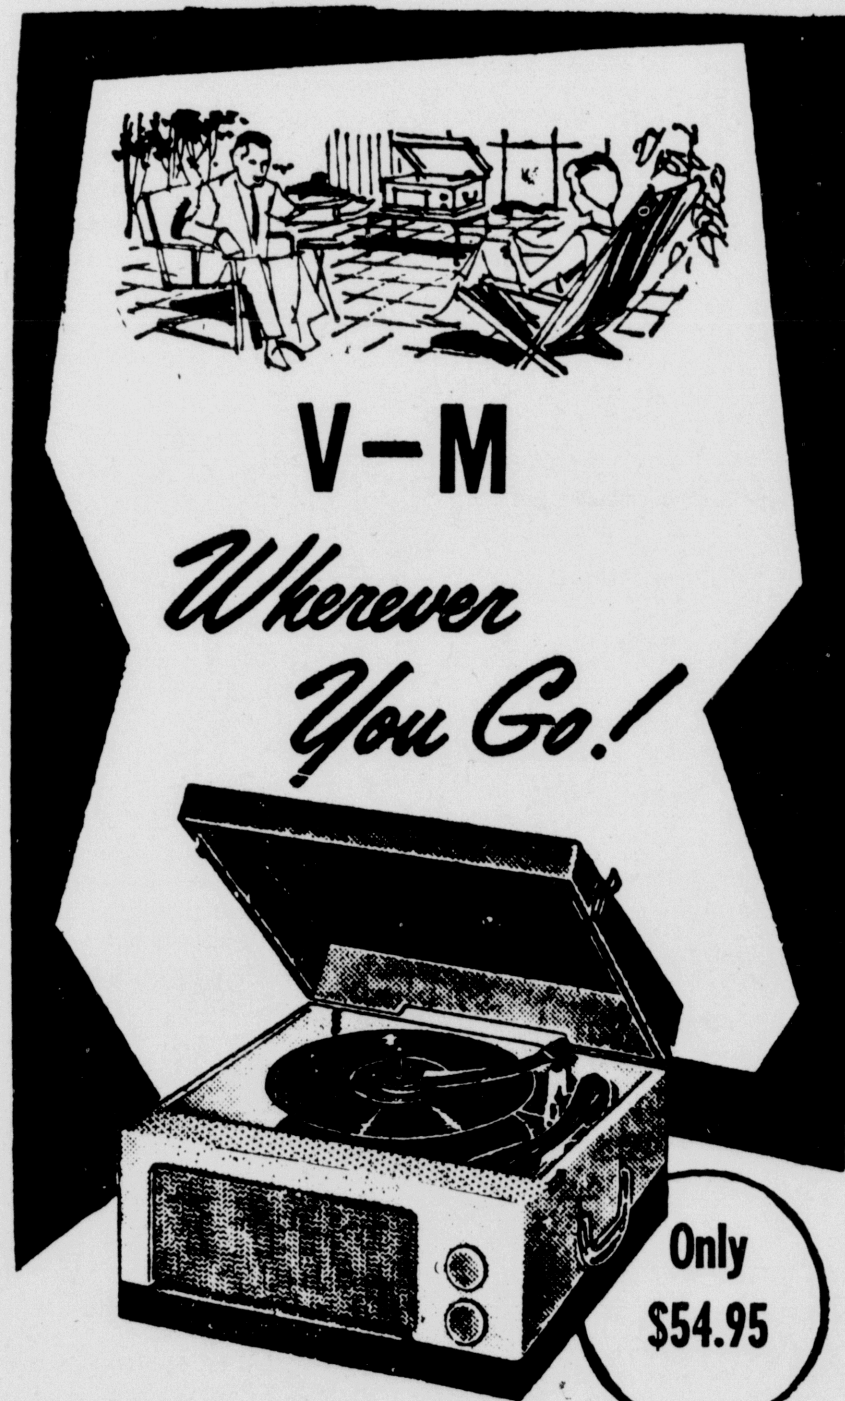

COOKING EGGS - To cook eggs in the shell, take them out of the refrigerator about a half hour before cooking, or use warm running water so the shells won't crack in the boiling water, suggests Marjorie Wormeck, Penn State extension nutritionist.

REMOVE SPLINTERS - Splinters can be removed almost painlessly if an ice cube is pressed to the spot for 20 to 30 seconds before removing, report Penn State nutrition and health extension specialists.

EGGS NEED COOL STORAGE - Eggs need proper refrigeration to maintain the original quality. Keep them covered or they'll absorb odors of other foods. Your grocer's egg display area should be refrigerated, too, reminds Elsie Barnesberger, consumer education specialist of the Pennsylvania State University.

Buy eggs by size and grade. Size is determined by the number of ounces in a dozen. The best size buy now is the large. Grade means quality. Grade AA and A are best for poaching, frying, scrambling, and cooking the shell. Grade B is satisfactory for baking and cooking.

WASHINGTON.--Adlai Stevenson's warning to his party of the hard job it faces in the 1958 Congressional elections and the 1960 Presidential election has been generally overlooked in the attention given to his criticism of the Eisenhower Administration in his speech last week-end at the San Francisco party rally. The 1952-56 candidate put his finger on a "fallacy" to which many Democrats subscribe and which is familiar in talk among Democrats in the Capitol lobbies here. This fallacy, as he put it, is "that we can win in 1958 and 1960 by a base on balls."

Though Stevenson did not attempt to analyze the reasons for this optimism, it can be said that it comes natural to Democrats in Congress because of factors that are peculiarly influential with them. They are naturally impressed by the strength the party showed at the grass roots in last November's election, again giving it control of Congress. That was achieved despite the popularity of the President, who was unable to translate that popularity to his party sufficiently for it to capture Congress.

Many Democrats in Congress think this augurs well for the Congressional elections next year when the President will not be at the head of the ticket, and for the Presidential election in 1960, when he cannot again be a candidate. Against this attitude must be put the bearish factors cited by Stevenson, who speaks from personal experience in two national campaigns where he encountered obstacles that carry more weight nationally than locally. He cited:

1. "Our own internal conflicts, mostly over civil rights."
2. The way in which "the image of the Democratic party and what it stands for has been blurred of late by Republican pretenses of liberalism."

3. The Republican party's ability always to get so much more money than Democrats to buy advertising space, radio and TV time.
4. The Republican party's immunity from criticism "from a large segment of the press, combined with massive and skillful use of propaganda and advertising" which, the former Democratic candidate said, "have brought us to a crisis in the honest political communication on which an informed electorate must depend."

Because of this last obstacle, which he counted a major reason for pessimism in looking to the 1958 and 1960 elections, Stevenson plainly told his party that it will fall chiefly upon individual members of the party to tell their story to the voters.

"Ordinarily," he said, "the party in power can confidently rely on both the minority party and the press for critical examination. This was true -- and then some -- when we were in power. But, alas, it is not true now."

In his extended and exhaustive travels over our land in the 1952 and 1956 campaigns, Stevenson learned that one often had to go many hundreds of miles to find a newspaper that had an encouraging word to say about the Democratic candidates or a critical word about the Republicans. Not only was that true in the 1952 and 1956 campaigns, as it was all during the Roosevelt and Truman years, but it also is true in between times about the two parties.

"We know," said Stevenson, "that most of the newspapers cast a more tolerant eye at the excesses and defects of Republicans than at those of Democrats. But this is a fact of life."

Anyone who had a front-row seat here in the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations can testify to the striking contrast in the critical eye turned upon those Administrations and the almost complete lack of curiosity today. The complacency has brought another result, and a natural one. This is the closing of avenues of information in government here, hamstringing reporters who try to keep the public informed. One can hardly blame the Administration in power from taking advantage of the press's pliant attitude. All officials of whatever Administration resist intrusion on their affairs, quickly forgetting that this is public business.

The fight to win an open door here for the press was a long and hard one. Surrender makes its closing a quick and easy job. Stevenson described the problem for those who are making the fight to reopen the doors around here when he said that his concern "is with the deterioration of democracy, when self-criticism withers, debate dries up, and power over the mass mind is concentrated in a few hands."

We are heading that way faster than some may think.

MR. AND MRS. WM. G. LYON

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Lyon, R 2, Russell celebrating their golden wedding anniversary were honored at an open house on Sunday. The affair, given by their children was attended by 130 guests during the afternoon and evening.

The table was centered with a lovely two-tiered wedding cake decorated in gold and white and topped with a gold "50".

Mrs. Lyon was the former Jennie Toner. They were married at her home in Warren, on February 13, 1907.

Mr. Lyon has been engaged in farming since 1918.

The couple have three children, Mrs. Elsie Hollabaugh, Warren, Mrs. Scott Phillips and William A. Lyon, Russell, and five grandchildren, all were present for the celebration.

Granddaughters Lodusky Hollabaugh and Betty Lyon were in charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Mabel Phillips and Mrs. Catherine Lyon were assisted in serving by Miss Margaret Snarburg, North Warren and Mrs. Grenett Lindgren, Warren.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert America of Buffalo.

CONFERENCE PLAY

It's just a matter of running out the time so far as Section Two, District 10 play goes. Meadville wrapped it up last week and continued to add glory to glory Friday night by whipping Franklin to the tune of 79 to 37. For the Bulldogs it was the 44th straight league victory, it gave the loud barkers a string of 13 wins, and extended their season record to 17-3.

At the same time it was the fifth straight loss for Franklin, after a fast start. The loss of Snell at mid-term obviously made a difference.

There was other hardwood action in the loop Friday. Corry's Turner ruined the nets with 31 and their Mitchell hit for 20 to pace a 92-72 triumph over Titusville. In doing so the Beavers broke a four-game losing streak.

Warren held second place in the circuit, but lost to Oil City 73-66. The Dragons finished with a seven point edge in the first meeting between the two. Warren's Ed Rickerson tallied a 28 to shine with the top men in the night's action.

This Friday will drop the curtain. Titusville should fall victim of Warren at the latter's court, Corry will revenge an earlier one-point loss at Franklin, and Meadville will make Corry a sorry host.

The standings at this date are Meadville 9-0, Warren 5-4, Corry and Oil City 4-5, Franklin 3-6, and Titusville 2-7.

Farrell will be the setting on March 8 for Meadville to represent the Section against Erie Strong Vincent of Section One. Then on the 16th of the month Grove City is in line as Section Three champ to meet the winner.

An upset appeared in the Allegheny Mountain conference Friday as Emporium (Cameron County) nipped leading St. Marys 54-52 to stay in the race. The Dutchmen were unbeaten in circuit play but are now only 5-1 against Emporium's 5-2 for the Class B title in the loop.

Ridgway split, defeating Johnsonburg 45-35 on Friday and dropping 59-48 to Sheffield Tuesday night. The win for the Wolverines, only Class C team in the circuit, put them in third place with a 3-3 account.

This Friday it is Ridgway at St. Marys and Sheffield going to Johnsonburg. As a result of Tuesday night's play in the Upper Allegheny Valley conference a three-way tie now exists between Youngsville, Northern Area and West Forest.

The Tionesta five defeated the leading Eagles 55-51 and Northern Area took Tidioute 60-56. Each now has a 7-2 record with one game remaining.

West Forest or Northern Area will be eliminated Friday night when they meet on the Eisenhower hardwood. The winner will be elected to go into the district Class C playoffs even if Youngsville beats Pleasantville. The Eagles are the only Class B school in the circuit this season and have chosen not to enter the playoffs. Tidioute is at East Forest in the other game.

Other results in the loop showed East Forest over Pleasantville 51-38 on Tuesday, while last Friday it was Youngsville 70, Tidioute 40; Northern Area 71, East Forest 50; West Forest 73, Pleasantville 51. ***

WRESTLING IS POPULAR

Mark Funk, executive director of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association, states that wrestling is the fastest growing sport in the state's high schools. (This is interesting to note as the Warren-Erie East match last Thursday night saw Beaty gym filled.)

According to Mr. Funk the sport is turning Pennsylvania into a possible early training field for candidates to the 1960 Olympic team.

At the present there are more district championships being held in the Keystone area than in any state in the nation.

This year saw 13 more teams over last season and the increase over 1955 was 28 teams. In the southwestern WPIA area the sport outdraws football and basketball in many cases. In fact the WPIAL is now experimenting in adding an 88-pound class to the present 11 weights (95 to 185).

The small expense of the sport seems to be one of the reasons for the increase in sponsorship, especially by small schools.

But it was a struggle here from its initiation by Bob Jewell. Then came Homer Barr, Eastern inter-collegiate champion from Penn State, who continued the battle of the mats for Warren. Now it's Harold Miller, ex-Pitt star of the canvass who is giving it both barrels, and in addition adding the glory of the major sports.

Last Thursday night not only saw the Beaty gym filled with spectators, but there was a girls' gymnastic exhibition, Director Harry Summers and an all-boy band, drum majorettes, cheerleaders, and enthusiastic school officials.

Y-CITY LOOP

Emerson's, behind the sharpshooting of Lou Hartweg and Bob Wolfe, drove to two victories in the YMCA-City league over the week. The pair shared 51 points as their team defeated the K. of C. 71-43 and Hartweg starred with 32 in a 76-64 triumph over Guifres.

In other games the Unknowns tripped Bovas 72-42 with Ben Obinger and Sonny Gerrett pacing the way with 22 and 18 counters respectively, and the Knights nudged Bovas 56 to 54. John Powley was top pointmaker in the latter game, as he racked up 24 for the winners against Bob Hartnett's 17 for Bovas.

BEATY TRIUMPHS

The Blue and Gold cagers of Beaty slapped a 52-38 loss on Falconer last Friday afternoon in Chadakoin loop play. Warren started in a hurry and gained a 46-19 advantage at the end of three periods before simmering off.

Doug Lind was top man on Coach Bob Fey's outfit with 17, Kremer and White each hit for 10.

The locals journey to Frewsburg this afternoon and wrap the season up at home Friday by entertaining Southwestern.

FINISH 7-3

Dragon grapplers of Warren high concluded their regular season on the Beaty mats last Thursday evening by flooring Erie East high 28-7. The local squad, in its first year under Coach Harold Miller, wrapped it up with a 7-3 record and will now enter the sectional meet in Meadville this Saturday to strive toward greater achievements.

Don Brian, a 127-pounder, ended the campaign undefeated when he gained a decision Thursday. Behind him was Harry Brooker, a strapping 145-pound contender, who ended with a 9-1 record after being awarded the verdict.

Winning by falls were Gail Page, Steve Pearson and Ron Bowen. Others getting the nod from the scoring table were Larry Campbell and Iver Stenberg.

TIED FOR FIRST place in the Warren Church league is this First Methodist team made up of (l. to r.) kneeling -- John Carter, Ted coach, was not present. The team has a 6-1 record along with Grace Methodist.

RECORD SLACKENS

Warren high cagemen allowed their season record to lower to 14-7 and extended a losing streak to three when they missed a 73-66 Section Two tilt to Oil City and took a 54-52 overtime loss from rival Jamestown.

The Oilers were revenging an earlier set-back on their home court Friday night and wasted no time in pushing the Blue and White in the hold and keeping them there.

Ed Rickerson handled Warren's scoring punch and took individual honors for the night with 28 counters. Murray slipped 21 through the hoop for the victors.

A real fracas was staged on the Jamestown hardwood this Tuesday night with Warren's domination turning into an overtime loss. Coach Joe Massa's quintet held the lead throughout until the game was knotted 47-47 at the gun. That was all the Raiders needed, as they outpointed the Dragons 7-5 in the extra period to snatch the win. Wyman Ansley was Jamestown's big boy with 19 points, while Jack Karkosky and Steve Lindquist paced Warren with 16 and 14 respectively.

CVCC PRO BACK

Golf talk reveals that Paul Porter, CVCC pro is "home" and will be ready when the birdies call forth the regulars in a few weeks. About five weeks for most of us, six or seven weeks for the average whiffer. . . . And down south we see Jay Hebert, former Erie Kahkwa pro, is doing quite well in the big time, with the Texas Open as his latest honor. But we don't hear from his brother, Lionel, also a former Kahkwa teacher. . . . Here at home some of the boys are talking about a meeting in hopes of getting a Warren public links course started. A small group will meet first and a public meeting may be held later.

SPORTSMEN'S SHOW

Visitors to the second annual Pennsylvania Recreation and Sportsmen's Show, to be held March 25-30 at the Farm Show Building in Harrisburg, will enjoy "more of everything" this year and a host of new features besides, according to officials.

The show will be all under one roof and include five acres of sporting goods and sports equipment on display. There will be special sections for fishing tackle; guns, archery and hunting equipment; boats and marine equipment; automobiles and sport cars; camp trailers and picnic and playground equipment.

Other special sections will be devoted exclusively to clothing and athletic goods; vacation and travel accessories; resorts and resort areas; lawn, garden and outdoor living equipment and conservation and organizations.

IKE LEADS WIN

Warren's Ron Isackson rolled up 18 points Tuesday night to lead Gannon College in a 79-66 victory over Thiel.

AREA SCORES

Warren high floormen lost a 54-52 overtime victory to Jamestown in the latest cage action staged during the past week. Titusville was licked 74-64 by Millcreek, Rocky Grove gave Franklin its sixth consecutive loss, Bradford walloped Kane 70-47, and Sharon remained undefeated by downing Ellwood City 55-34. Erie Academy enjoyed a 58-55 success over Harbors Creek and Mercer dropped Sharpville 61-46.

Around the section last Friday night Clearfield knocked off Du Bois 65-47, Punxsutawney tripped Bradford 60-56 and Kane clubbed a weak Curwensville outfit by 70 to 27 in District 9 Class A activity.

It was Sharpville over West Middlesex by 44-38, Hickory lowered Greenville 65-42, Farrell drubbed Beaver Falls 87-52, Sharon racked up number "20" over New Castle 66-42, Otto twp. took Oswayo by an easy 67-25, Port Allegany nipped Couderdport 50-49, and Smethport defeated Austin 55 to 3.

METHODISTS AT WAR

Basketball teams of the Grace Methodist and First Methodist now share the top position in the Church loop, each owning a 6-1 record. In this Monday's contests Craig Wyman and Bob Haslet tallied 21 and 18 points respectively to pace Grace in a 70-50 victory against First Baptist. The night cap resulted in a close 60-56 win for First Methodist, St. Paul's on the short side. The winners were lead by Dave Lord's 20 counters, but Bob Whitehill siz-zled with 26 to take individual honors for the Swedes.

Lord hit for 24 last Thursday as his First Methodist five took the Presbyterians 73-31. Grace whipped the Baptist 77-51 with Dick Kyler the big pointmaker with 28. Jack Colvin dumped 25 for the losers.

THE TROUT STORY

There will be fewer trout, bigger ones, and more water in which to plant them, says the fish commission in commenting on this spring's stocking program. About 2,407,410 trout will be distributed, weighing 2,821,702 pounds. Another 93,000 will be brought in from federal hatcheries in West Virginia and New York to help replace those lost by the Spring Creek pollution.

The miles of approved trout streams has been increased from 4,058 up to 4,107. The number of lakes will be the same as last year, 52. Stocking the streams will be done gradually and with no effort to get it done before the season opens. It is expected to continue through June, except for some experimental stocking which will be done later.

STATE DOG

The Gaines Dog Research Center in New York is attempting to learn what breed would be preferred if Pennsylvania were to have a state dog. It is seeking personal preferences so that officials who would have the duty of naming such a dog would have some idea of what would best suit the state.

Some states find no difficulty here because they have developed a breed or because of some enterprise within their borders requires a certain kind of dog. The Boston terrier in Massachusetts, the Chesapeake Bay retriever in Maryland and sheep dogs in sheep areas are examples.

There also may be something in our history that would make a breed appropriate. It will require some study and of course everyone won't be happy with the choice.

There also is the possibility of conflict with other states. That is a situation that Gaines is trying to avoid. It is maintaining an up-to-minute list so as to avoid duplication. What would be your choice for Pennsylvania?

RARE BIRDS

The birds seen in many residential areas are surprising these days. The same goes for the seasonal appearance of many birds. The reason is the rapidly expanding habit of feeding the birds, many times in well prepared and protective backyard feeders.

We have been amazed to see the wily blue jay sitting in our backyard. The old boy usually is busy telling the world when you get anywhere near his home grounds, and he isn't apt to stay put very long once you arrive. To have him visit ours is an experience.

The same goes for many other crafty ones, such as the grackle, black birds, and some of the brightly feathered ones who seem conscious of their attraction and are not apt to make it easy to find them. All of them come flying in for a helping.

Of course we are not surprised when a robin drops in during the winter. But we always are a little moved when any of the brighter feathers are seen fluttering against the backdrop of snow. Though we know that many of these are apt to be found in the deep swamps where food is available, and that it is food and not weather that moves many of them south, we still find them fascinating out of season and in town.

Feeding the birds can become an intriguing experience. It takes time to earn their confidence and for the word to get around that you run a safe area. But once they get acquainted, a wide range of the feathered ones are your guests and learn to trust you far beyond the stage of peeping at them through a crack between the shade and the window frame. Many of them will eat at your feet.

WHERE DO THEY GO?

We always find it interesting to learn what becomes of animals, fish, or birds after they are born or are released. How far do they travel? Where do they end up? The Pennsylvania Game Commission has banded 38,703 ducks since 1951. Of these, 4,811 have been recovered.

Most of these stayed in Pennsylvania, 4,244 to be exact, or 88 per cent. The rest were distributed as follows:

New York, 150; Michigan, 43; Ohio, 40; Maryland, 39; Virginia, 33; New Jersey, 28; Delaware, 15; North Carolina, 7; South Carolina, 7; Wisconsin, Minnesota and West Virginia, 6 each; Tennessee, Kentucky and Indiana, 5 each; Alabama, 4; Rhode Island and Illinois, 3 each; Florida and North Dakota, 2 each; and the following states reported one band apiece - Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Georgia, and Arkansas. Provinces: Ontario, 115; Quebec, 4; and Saskatchewan, 1.

Persons in possession of a waterfowl band are requested, even now, to report the number on the "bracelet" and the time and place of kill to the Game Commission, Harrisburg, or to any Game Protector. This information provides state and federal wildlife agencies with data helpful in planning waterfowl management programs and seasons.

PROTECT HAWKS

Goshawks, sharpshins, and Coopers would be added to the protected list if a proposed law change were approved. This would give protection to all hawks. And about time. Actually, they do far less damage than claimed and for every one that is shot, some protected hawk is shot by mistake. In cases where a hawk is known to be causing trouble, special permission would be granted to allow his extinction.

MATMAN Bruce Trevenen was in control over Ed Kaliszewski when this shot was taken, but lost a decision to the Erieite in the end.

MAN OF THE YEAR. John Powley, Nationwide Insurance Co. agent with offices in Warren, has achieved the top honors for the year 1956 by being named "Man of the Year". The area in which Mr. Powley works covers 14 districts in the Northwestern part of Pennsylvania with offices in Butler and the Erie Region. The announcement was made by C. R. Gilfert, district sales manager, who commends Mr. Powley for accomplishing such a goal in his field and for the active part he has played in the social and civic affairs of the community.

ON THE JOB -- WHEN IT COUNTS!

On the job - when it counts! That's the slogan of your American Red Cross as it seeks your support in its 1957 drive for badly needed funds.

Disasters and crises of the past year - the Andrea Doria sinking, the floods of the Northeast of which Warren County residents will not easily forget, then the flash floods, tornadoes, hurricanes, explosions, the Hungarian refugee situation - to name but a few - cry out that the need to help your neighbor is as great as ever.

Won't you give him a hand? Give to the Red Cross. The Warren County goal is $26,893.00
